4-H Program Coordinator’s Message

Spring is almost here and the excitement of 4-H is in the air! If you have an animal project or are interested in an animal project, there are many upcoming educational workshops happening right here in our county for you to learn more about your projects. In this newsletter you’ll find flyers about upcoming animal science workshops including Livestock Nutrition and Animal Care and Well-Being.

Planning for our summer camps is well underway. This year we will again offer three different camps which are the Cloverbud Day Camp, Overnight Camp, and Summer Camp Blast. More information about camps is on page 6 of this newsletter and as we continue to plan them, more information will be released. Please remember that all of our camps are open to non-4-H members so feel free to bring your friends along!

Come join us for some fun at the Clare Irish Festival Parade on March 17. We’ll once again have a float in the parade and hope to see many of our families take part in this. Feel free to bring your pets on the float or to walk your dog or goat or ride your horse! More information about the parade can be found on page 5 of this newsletter.

Have a happy St. Patrick’s Day!!

4-H Exploration Days registration opening March 13

4-H Exploration Days is Michigan 4-H’s largest pre-college program and could be the highlight of your summer—maybe even change your life! Registration for this popular event will open March 13 and is open to any Michigan 4-H’er above the age of 11 as of Jan. 1.

4-H Exploration Days is designed to help youth build the skills they need to successfully transition to college and to life as an adult. Michigan 4-H youth who participate have the opportunity to stay in MSU campus residence halls while attending classroom and field trip sessions throughout their stay.

With more than 200 session choices held on and off campus, there are topics for everyone including animal science, business and entrepreneurship, international language and culture, performing and visual arts, and science, engineering, and technology. During the 2017 4-H Exploration Days, nearly 2,000 youth attended and they gained important life skills like decision making, problem solving and communication.

Registration will be available beginning March 13 at 9 a.m. All registration information should be turned in to your county’s Extension office, typically by the end of April. Check with your local 4-H program coordinator for your specific county date or visit www.canr.msu.edu/4_h_exploration_days for more information.

4-H Great Lakes and Natural Resources Camp

From August 5 to 11, 4-H youth with an interest in the outdoors have the opportunity to engage in an amazing outdoor, hands-on learning experiences at the 4-H Great Lakes and Natural Resources Camp (GLNRC). Held annually at Camp Chickagami in Presque Isle, camp participants get to go charter fishing, snorkeling, sailing and hiking, while learning about Great Lakes ecology, natural resources and environmental education.

Declared one of the top eight 4-H science programs nationally in 2012, the goal of GLNRC is to help prepare, reinforce and enrich what youth have already learned in school and what they will learn in the future. This is achieved by allowing participants to spend one week learning from experts about coastal ecology, fisheries management, limnology, wildlife, invasive species and forestry. After attending the camp, participating youth will gain knowledge and skills in environmental science and related careers.

To attend, youth must be between the ages of 13 and 15 and apply online. Registrations are due by May 1, but space is limited to 70 campers, so early application is encouraged. For more information, visit www.canr.msu.edu/4_h_great_lakes_natural_resources_camp.

Three new lesson plans are now available in the “Teaching Science When You Don’t Know Diddly-Squat” series. With a focus on sight, animal feet and math, the new lesson plans are not meant to teach specific content, but to teach the process of science.

Asking questions and discovering answers encourages 4-H’ers to figure things out for themselves.

Discover the entire series and download the new lesson plans at msue.anr.msu.edu/resources/teaching-science_when_you_dont Know_diddly-squat_series.

Livestock News

Record Keeping: At the last 4-H Livestock Meeting it was voted to use the revised 4-H Livestock Record Books for all 4-H members with market projects in the beef, feeder calf, swine, and sheep projects. CCJLA voted to make the 4-H Livestock Record Keeping project mandatory for all youth selling one of the above projects at the Clare County Fair.

The books are all the same for each species and are a broken up by age category based on 4-H age of January 1 of the current year. Cloverbuds 5 to 8, Beginner 9 to 11, Intermediate 12 to 15, and Advanced 16 to 19. Each 4-H member needs to complete a book for each species they are selling. For example, if someone has two pigs they only need to turn in one record book as the record book has space to keep data for both of those projects.

Record books can be found on our website at http://msue.anr.msu.edu/county/clare/clare_county_4_h. They are also in fillable PDF format so they can be saved on a computer and be filled in via computer. Printed copies will be available at the MSU Extension Office, Livestock Meetings, and 4-H Council Meetings.

Michigan 4-H Capitol Experience
April 15–18, 2018

4-H Capitol Experience is a four-day conference held in Lansing that focuses on civic engagement and public policy. The program is open to ALL high school students in Michigan. Each year, 75 to 100 students take action on issues that matter to them and learn how they can have an influence on state government and laws.

After choosing current issue areas (options below), participants interact with legislators, tour Michigan’s Capitol, meet with state agency staff, lobbyists and other state-level experts, discover how policy is made, and explore various careers in public policy. Recreation is included in the schedule. At the end of the conference, the teens leave with an understanding of the impact that their voice can have on policy and their communities — now and in the future.

Choose Your Issue Area

Participants will choose their top three issue areas and will learn about one. They will work with other teens to draft a bill related to their issue and will go through a legislative simulation. Issue group choices include:
