7. What qualities of the breed you selected make it a good market animal?
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________

8. Protein is an important part of your animals ration. What effect(s) does protein have on your animal? List at least 4 feed supplements that are high in protein.
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________

9. Describe a disease that can have an effect on your animal. What are your treatment options?
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________

10. Carbohydrates are part of your animals feed ration. Describe what a carbohydrate supplies for your animal. List three feeds that are high in energy (carbohydrates).
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________