Deployment involves moving an individual or military unit within the country or to another country. A mission or task might include training, supporting communities during times of disaster, helping foreign countries or fighting in a war. The many changes happening with each departure and return create difficulties for both service members and their families.

SUMMARY

- Look up facts about your service member’s deployment location including weather, culture, music, time difference and other information. Discuss the similarities and differences between the deployment location and home. Create a poster depicting similarities on one side and differences on the other.
- Have your service member talk about his or her uniform and special equipment. Make sure you keep topics age appropriate. Have children try on their parent’s uniform and equipment. Talk about what it feels like. Take a photo of your child wearing your service member’s uniform or equipment.

PRE-DEPLOYMENT ACTIVITIES

- Write letters and draw pictures for your service member while he or she is gone. Send him or her a monthly update with photos and drawings.
- Make a care package of your service member’s favorite candy, books or magazines and send it to him or her. Find postal regulations at www.usps.com.

DURING-DEPLOYMENT ACTIVITIES

- Write your own deployment storybook. Use plain paper folded in half and stapled in the middle. Draw pictures depicting the experience of deployment. What did you do while your service member was gone? How did you stay in touch? How did you feel? Share this story with other military kids so that they know that they are not the only ones experiencing this.
