Are you looking for good pay, job security and variety on the job? Do you enjoy working with animals, driving equipment, learning new things and using the latest technology? If any of these sound interesting, working on a dairy farm might be for you!

Ready to learn more about how you can receive training for jobs in the dairy industry?

Michigan State University Extension will offer a “Dairy Jobs Training Short Course” March 21 - April 1, 2016 in Clinton County. The short course will include both classroom and on-farm training. No prior dairy farm experience is necessary.

For an application, please contact Faith Cullens, MSU Extension dairy educator, at 989-224-5249 or cullensf@msu.edu.

Applications must be received by March 14.
